

Keep respecting anyone regardless of what is bad about them because decisions are the rights of all humans. At least what we can control is how our attitude responds to them, for example keeping our words from saying bad or blasphemous words. If you want to reprimand, say it in kind words and deserve to be heard so you do not have to hurt anyone's feelings. The point is to be wise in responding to LGBT issues, whether in reality or on social media.
