

Chapter 1

INTRODUCTION

1.1 Background

Education is essential to building and shaping people's skills and abilities to enter the world of industries. The lessons and knowledge we earned from college are theory and practice basics. With that theory, most Indonesian universities apply for internships as a subject and requirement to graduate. An internship program is an activity where students experience working in industries. Students can apply what they learn at the campus and experience from internships to join and work after graduation.

Students are anticipated to learn and address the opposition throughout the internship software of their work lives. Inside the internship applications, college students are directly guided by supervisors from the organization. From there, the scholars learn about the challenge they will do from a new angle in new surroundings. College students additionally analyze directly from experts with distinct backgrounds. The scholars will research many reports, making new connections and pals.

Ma Chung University is one of the universities where the internship program is a compulsory subject in the last semester and one of the requirements for graduation. Ma Chung wants every graduate to have competencies in terms of Knowledge, skills, and professional behavior to compete in working environments. This objective is beneficial for preparing Ma Chung Students for jobs when they fully graduate from the University. Students who do internships also must follow the majors they're taking. The theories and lessons they get for six semesters can be maximum applied to the company for training and themselves.

Ma Chung University has three faculty with various study programs; one is Language and Arts Faculty. The writer chose the English Letter Study Program, so the writer should pick the programs relevant to one or more subjects that he got from the lecturer. The programs become the medium for students to apply the theories they learned from the lecturer into practice in the workplace.

The writer chooses to be an English teacher for his internship program. The writer decides to teach in a Junior High School. The writer did his internship at SMPK Sang Timur in Malang. The school was chosen because the lecturer agreed with the principal to hold an internship there. It also happens to be the lecturer's old school. The school is relevant to the English Letter Study Program. In other ways, students will also know about the school system in the school that they choose. Also, the students can learn about the internship experience, social networking, and teamwork after graduating from college, which can be applied when they work for real.

The English language is important in this school to teach young learners English. This means young learners will be able to speak and understand English once they are graduated. Another significant result is that young learners can speak and understand English from foreign tourists. English as a second language greatly helps us, such as traveling to other countries or gaining a new career opportunity. As Kindergarten, we are introduced to the English language. English is the world's language because more than half of the internet content is in English, so tech companies are in English-speaking countries such as the United States of America.

1.2 Internship Objective

The objective of the internship is for the students, the study program, the university, and the school. For the students, it is necessary to join and complete the program to graduate from campus. It also allows the writer to apply the theories and skills he learned from Ma Chung University, especially in the English Letter Study Program.

The program is also for the faculty media and the university to produce the best alumnus. The program becomes their medium to measure the students' quality and skills for the school. It also gives the writer experience of what it feels like to be a teacher

1.3 The Scope of The Report

The report contains the school, internship activities, and the writer's situation. The writer has issues with confidence and struggles to search for teaching materials

1.4 The Significance

The program benefits the student by applying and developing the skills he gets from the university and the school. He can learn about the conditions and work ethic before they start to work after fully graduating from the university.

For Ma Chung, the importance of the program is to evaluate the knowledge and theories that the English Letters Study Program gives and help the program produce skilled alums. It also helps with the relationship between the university and the school.

For the school, SMPK Sang Timur, the internship program is the school's medium for establishing collaboration with the university. As a bonus, the school can learn the quality of Ma Chung's English Letter Study Program.

Chapter 2

INTERNSHIP ACTIVITIES

This chapter contains a general description of the school where the writer takes place, finding the problems, challenges, or problems the writer found during the internship program, and how the writer forms a bond with the students