

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter comprises two sub-chapter, the first one is conclusion and second is suggestion. The conclusion describes a report of the research, and the suggestion is aimed for practical and theoretical needs.

5.1 Conclusion

There are two analyses, the first focusing on moral issues and the second on moral lessons. Moral issues discuss any deviant behaviour from the main character seen in the film. Meanwhile, moral lessons discuss what can be learned through the behaviour that is depicted by the main character, because a film must have a message behind the issues that occur, as well as the relationship of cause and effect.

Based on the analysis, and the results show that The Tinder Swindler movie contains several moral issues, there are six moral issues identified in this film are all negative, such as deceptive, untruthful, verbally aggressive, hypocritical, untrustworthy, and perfidious. Those moral issues are obtained only from the main character, Simon Leviev as swindler. He does things that violate the morals of society, with the aim of benefiting himself. Simon doesn't care and doesn't think about the impact that will happen in the future.

There are several points of moral lessons based on the behaviour of the main character. Lessons seen from the side of Simon Leviev as a swindler, and the side of the victim who has been deceived. We must act correctly to reap good things. But on the contrary, if we do something that is not right, then we will also reap bad things like Simon. While the lesson that is drawn from the victim, actions not only harm the material but also a person's mental. It takes a big effort to recover and return all the losses experienced. So, every action needs to think about the impact it will have on others. As well as lessons that can be taken from the victim's side, one must be careful in trusting people.

5.2 Suggestion

In the end of this study, the researcher would like to give some suggestions as follow:

a. For the Readers

The researcher hopes that this research can provide benefits to all parties who are willing to read and for all those who have an interest in studying literature. The researcher also hopes that this research can provide useful information about the analysis of moral problems in films, especially in documentary films.

b. For the Future Researcher

This research can be a reference to future researchers. Analysis of a documentary film in terms of literature from different point of view. Such as, analysing certain characters, plots and so on. Many things from a film are used as material for research that can conclude something.
