

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

5.1 Conclusions

Based on the data, the researcher has concluded that there is so many evidence in Captain Marvel (2019) that contains Girl Power theory, especially in the main character, Carol Danvers. Based on the researcher's findings, Carol Danvers in the last half of the movie, she shows so many powers to beat Kree. During the journey of her battle, she can find her true identity, after all this time she just obeys her senior, Yon-Rogg. Carol Danvers is showing a character of Girl Power that is smart, brave, independent, and has the right to make her own decisions. She also shows that she is a woman that more closely to masculine referring to her choice of clothes and how she leads her small team to bring Talos (leader of The Skrulls) to find a hidden place made by Mar-Vell (Dr. Wendy Lawson). Carol Danvers is an example of woman who can be anything, whether it is feminine, masculine, powerful, or cheerful at once.

There is no such thing to hold women to be submissive to men. Yon-Rogg used to be tied to Carol so she cannot use her full power to beat him. But when Carol finally knows her true power, no one can beat her. The researcher hopes that this spirit can influence to all women in this world. Women have to be brave to speak what is their mind, but still, be mindful of it. Women have to be supportive toward other women. Nowadays, there are many movements and organizations that can help women to speak for their voices so it can be heard. These things should be growing up so the idea of feminism can be achieved, when men and women can have the same position in the workplace or any related environment.

At the end of the movie, Carol Danvers can get along with her lovely best friend again, Maria Rambeau and her new friend, Furry. She returns back the communication tools that she stole it from him, even though she modified it so Furry can contact her when she is in other galaxies. Carol Danvers also chooses to not stay on Earth. She is successful to find The Skrulls home. What Carol did in this movie shows that she shows more actions than words. She is just busy proving to herself that she is capable to do big things, to finish what is started by Mar-Vell to end the war. Girl Power is a very powerful spirit that women should have, but it is more powerful if it follows with actions, not only words that are easy to be spoken.

5.2 Suggestions

On IMDb, Captain Marvel gets a quite high rating which is 6.8/10. This type of movie would be interesting to be researched because of the current generation would feel relate to this kind of movie genre. Thus, this opens up an opportunity for the researcher in the future to have the same research object.

In the last chapter of this paper, the researcher would like to give some suggestions such as:

1. For future researchers that want to conduct the same source or data as the researcher did, researchers can apply the same concept with different techniques of findings. The theory of Girl Power can become a serious issue that will relate for years.
2. Teachers can use this movie to be the main source of related study because this movie can be considered as a new movie in town and the researcher believe that students will love it because it is Marvel Studios. Teachers can use this movie to make students find the intrinsic elements or moral value of this movie. Watching this movie could help to gain their female's student self-confidence.

3. Related to the researcher's analysis that use movie as the main source for her thesis, English Letters Study Program should give more attention to students on how to analyze a movie, and what kind of theories and approaches should be used especially for movie. Therefore, students will be more understood to make a thesis that uses movie as their main source data.
